“ My best friend. Bestie, your infectious laugh, your sense of humor, your sarcasm, your blunt opinion on every situation, your wisdom, your love. You loved with your whole heart. My whole life I will never forget that. All of our late night conversations, the birthdays, ALL of the New Years Eve's we spent together. Despite everything that was thrown at you, you were so much more than your illnesses... you always managed to smile. I know you were tired and you had to go.. but how dare you leave me & everyone you loved. I'm going to miss you. You knew everything about me and loved me anyway. "You raise me up.. to more than I can be." Go find my Mom bestie. I love you. ❤️
