“ Jodi....what can I say...you have been a part of my life either through music or friendship or just knowing and loving your family since I was 15. We had so much fun at band practices and creature hunting and just discussing life. You are at peace now and can share your music up there but we will miss you down here.

“ My friend. We had so much fun growing up in the 80's and on. All the trips we'd take into Chicago to the drum warehouses to look at all the drum sets that we wished we could buy. All the times we hung out when you were playing drums in bands in the 90's, and then watching you transition to guitar. We had a lot of fun in the early days. Life sucks and isn't easy. I didn't know about your cancer as I don't get on fb much, and have to deal with my own health probs for the past 20 years on a daily basis, but you know I've been there in heart and memories.. Until we meet again on the drumstage my friend. RIP Eric
