“ I live in California and I loved Judy very much when she lived down the street from me with her boys in the 60s and 70s. She was always kind and welcoming to the neighborhood kids and I finally recall her picking up a bunch of us and driving us to school with her boys every morning. I loved and respected her. She always maintained grace, dignity, and optimism, despite enduring some tremendous losses. I knew, and was friends with all of her boys, and I know that she was so grateful for the loving care of her devoted son Brik during her later years. She was a special woman, and I will always miss her. Randy Thompson

“ Loving, witty, and fiery, I am honored to have had Judy as my grandma. I miss hearing the smile in her voice when we spoke on the phone, and receiving her tender letters and cards. I am so grateful for all the many easy conversations we shared over the years. I miss hearing her weather report and sharing mine. I am grateful she got to know my husband and meet my children. She was always checking in on us and looking out for us. I love her forever and will carry her within my heart always.

“ Grandma always surprised me with her quick wit. She was always brutally honest and it would leave me chuckling. I will miss our chats in the phone and our new bond we created when I became a mother. I enjoyed hearing stories of when all her boys were small. Even though we always lived far away, I've felt the abundance of her love throughout my life. Grandma had so much love and wisdom to give and I am eternally grateful for. I will carry her in my heart forever.

“ My mom cared for each one of you. She was always asking about or, more likely, sharing the things she learned you were doing. She loved us all.

“ I called her Grandma, but she was my whole family. Her love touched us all more than words could ever say. Those who knew her know what I mean and those who do not know her could never understand no matter what I said.
