“ I remember spending many days at your house. Your mother and father always made all nine of us feel like we were just as important as you were. We felt like we were part of your family. It was difficult for our family to fit in anywhere or find friends. I have nothing but wonderful memories of the time we spent at your house or sliding down the hill up the road by the Buch's home in the snow. I thank all of you for accepting us for who we are. I thank you for allowing us to enter your home and your family. I know both of your parents were very important to my father who passed six years ago. I love all of you. I regret we have all lost touch but that does happen as life happens. From the Moyer and Farringer family, I feel your loss and pain. Your parents were truly remarkable loving people to everyone. I am a better person from the time I spent with all of you. I am blessed from the grace God granted me by allowing me to be a part of your lives.

Love you all forever,
