“ What kind of friend am I that I didn't even know my dear friend who helped me through so many hard times passed away until now when I read it. I am so sorry Andy that I wasn't there for her and for you in her final days. I will never forgive myself for becoming such a recluse that I didn't even know she had passed. Our last talk will always be in my memories and heart, we talked about her beautiful grandchildren and how much joy they brought her. We talked about how she had sold the business and was in remission of cancer and on how it had been so long since we got together. I have so many wonderful memories of my friend and I will pray tonight and every night that she forgives me for not being a better friend to her in her final days on this earth, Love and always in my heart Colleen

“ As a young girl growing up a crossed the street you were always sweet and kind. I remember playing with the boys and eating grapes off the vine in the back yard not your grapes lol. You would come over and have cofffee and play cards at my dads. You were a great person to be around. Many years went by unitl I saw you again. I came into the store for a shirt lol. The tears and laughter and hugs that day were amazing. Rest in peace dear neighbor for a not so little girl any more. Heather Yeater
