“ I haven't seen Sue for many years, but back when we were young mothers she was always sewing outfits for my kids and she made my daughter a beautiful Easter dress. She was never too busy to bring over a pot of homemade chicken soup if we were under the weather. What a treasure. She will be missed greatly.

“ I have counted Sue as a highly esteemed and trusted friend and business person for as many years as Jeffrey is old!! She began to knit my designs shortly before Jeffrey was born. We grew in business and friendship over the years, fitting our lives into and around our private lives. There were years that clumped together where we were entirely separate. A few years ago, we re-connected and found that the friendship had not suffered at all. We will all miss her smile, wicked sense of humor, consummate ability to problem solve and to make whatever she was working on a complete success. That could include planting & harvesting acreage, home schooling her children, gardening in harmony with the planet, knitting yards of fabric to meet a deadline, or designing and making garments. She was a highly skilled woman whose humility and passion for learning kept her firmly grounded in the present. I am so sad that we only got 54 years, yet, she did not miss a moment. Admire you Sue and Thanks for all of the times we did get to share.oxoxoxoxolouannBlueSkyPrairieTextilesLLC

“ I have a beautiful baptism gown with a matching boy hat and matching girl's bonnet that was handmade by Susan. Both our children wore it when they were both baptized and it will be passed down to their children. A gorgeous heirloom to remember a wonderful person. My condolences to all of the family~Annette Hamann

“ It would be very difficult to share just one memory of Sue. But if I tried really hard it would have to be her FOOD. Sue showed you that she loved you by feeding you. She fed everyone who came over. Her pizza was the best in the world! Her beans and rice were heavenly. Remember her quesadilla's - oh they were the best ever! Then there were the cinnamon rolls. I could go on forever.

Sue had the biggest heart of anyone I have ever met. She cared about everyone. If you were sick she'd show up at your door with a bunch of stuff to make you feel better.

She had a knack for making you feel special. Sue valued family over all else. Sue's life centered around her immediate family but she was always ready to extend her friendship, hospitality, and help to anybody who needed it.

Sue, you will be in my heart forever. Edith PS - I love you and miss you.
